

QUICK GUIDE TO THE YOUTH FORUM

The Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) Youth Forum is a platform designed for young people to be able to add their voices to international policy discussions at the United Nations, articulating their perspectives on current issues and challenges facing the global community. Youth advocates, representatives of youth-led organizations, and other youth stakeholders will gather in New York to dialogue with UN Member States, policymakers, civil society, and the private sector to explore opportunities to promote youth engagement and development. The 2023 ECOSOC Youth Forum will follow a hybrid format, and the guiding theme is: Accelerating the recovery from the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) and the full implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development at levels.

The Youth Forum is made up of general (or plenary), thematic, and regional sessions. View the full programme here. In addition, participants will have the opportunity to attend side events on 25, 26, and 27 April.
