

Developing the skills for effective government-to-government consultation is essential for amplifying Indigenous voices.

A wide variety of barriers impede self-determination. This 90 minute workshop will give participants the opportunity to develop policy solutions, documentation, and delivery practices to support their respective agendas. The workshop will also provide participants with tools to engage in policy change and testimony. This workshop is a means to integrate a human rights framework into land policy, health policy, and educate and introduce social protections.

TOOLS TO ENGAGE IN POLICY CHANGE & TESTIMONY

Lecture & Workshop

Monday, April 22, 2024
1:00-2:30pm EST via ZOOM*
Registration is required.

Register here:

<https://forms.gle/6fbnH2oM6AW2Gboc9>

*Registrants will receive Zoom information upon registration.

This workshop will also provide:

- Best practices for advocating for Indigenous nations globally;
- Develop policy strategies and actions;
- Develop data skills essential for advocacy; and
- Opportunity to connect with a global network of Indigenous policy advocates.

Questions? Please contact:

Carmela M. Roybal, PhD MBGPH MA (Ohkay Owingeh)

University of New Mexico Native American Budget & Policy Institute

croybal@avanyuhealth.com | cmoral7@unm.edu

Language: English/Spanish